

Nature the Healer: In the same way that certain foods, prepared and consumed appropriately, can administer healing to the body and improve one's sense of well-being, so it can and should be with regard to our jewelry.

The earth produces a vast array of precious and semi-precious stones, crystals, woods, resins, metals and seeds long known to possess particular properties or 'energies' that can positively influence the physical, emotional and psychological states of humans. Improvement of one's self can begin as simply as putting on a necklace, bracelet or earrings.

Our existence is, at all times, firmly within the hands of our Creator. However, the medicine and technology necessary to maintain our gift of LIFE is all around us. Buried in the earth, sprouting from the soil, hanging from the trees, falling from the sky, Nature is full of provision.

⊠⊠ This is the forgotten aspect of jewelry making and adornment: BEAUTIFICATION & HEALING. ⊠⊠

Fifth Kingdom Jewelry: ascribes to the philosophy put forth by Father Abraham and the prophets of his lineage. Beyond what our physical senses can experience exists a greater, more pure reality that will, eventually, manifest itself upon the earth. Until this day of manifestation, we are to live our lives in anticipation of its revelation.

We recognize that the reality of things runs deeper than the eye and mind's comprehension. We endeavor to create jewelry that includes a deeper understanding of the materials' properties and energies.

There are several different ways of personalizing a piece of jewelry. Custom made pieces can be created to the specifications of the individual person.
